

1-24-94

Dear Wendy Dixon,

I'd like to take a few minutes to send a note off to you, singing the praises of your Calmoseptine Ointment! Nowadays people are quick to complain of a product, but loathsome to commend a product they've found to be enthralled with. Wendy I'm taking the time! I have three children that are all grown up. When they were babies I used Desitin for their little diaper rashes. Sometimes it worked quickly, sometimes it cured the problem in a few days worth of faithful use. Fourteen months ago, I became the first-time grandmother of a bouncing baby boy! While my daughter was pregnant, I the proud grandma-to-be, went out and purchased everything and anything for my grandchild-to-be. I thought of everything, including my boy of Desitin! I was ready for baby! Twenty-four hours after he was taken home, he re-entered the hospital with fever and spent five days there. During this time, I and my daughter stayed with him day and night. The nurses there introduced me to Calmoseptine. I wish his other problems could have been